WARNING GIVEN GREEK VOTERS

Allied Supreme Council Threatens
Withdrawal of Financial Support
If Constantine Returns

PLEBESCITE SUNDAY

Note Comes as Complete Surprise
and Causes Much Consternation
Among Greeks, It Is Reported

London, Dec. 3.—The Allied supreme council today publicly announced it would withdraw financial support from Greece should former King Constantine be returned in the plebiscite of Sunday. The council considered constantinean reprisals should be entertained.

The council also decided the Allied members should meet a fortnight hence to discuss conditions as they exist after the Greeks register their choice in the plebiscite.

Must Meet Allies' Wishes.
Briefly summarized, the position of the Allies is that they want to warn the Greeks vigorously that their government must conform to a great extent to the wishes of the Allies, and that if the plebiscite in yesterday's vote and today's statement relative to withdrawal of financial support are ineffective, the Allies are prepared to enforce sterner measures, which were suggested today.

As the Seres treaty has not been ratified, it is within the power of the Allies to modify it and they are keeping this fact to the fore, at least as regards Smyrna. It is known that some of those at the conference today expressed the belief that Smyrna would be safer from the Allied standpoint, in Turkish hands than in the hands of the Greeks under Constantine. The wish was expressed, however, not to go so far as to threaten the Greeks, before the plebiscite, with retaining part of the territory allotted them under the Seres treaty.

While the premier is in accord that the sterner measures should be taken if Constantine is returned, they have not agreed on what stand to take if the Greeks choose Prince George for their king.

WALKER BEER BILLS SUBJECTED TO TEST

Injunction Suit Against State Excise Commissioner Is Filed in United States Court

New York, Dec. 3.—The constitutionality of the state excise law, known as the Walker beer bill, was attacked, in an injunction suit filed in the United States court here today against Herbert Sisson, state excise commissioner. Attorney General Charles D. Newton and District Attorney Edward Swann of New York. The action was brought by Charles Leopold and company, wholesale liquor dealers. The suit asked that the officials be enjoined from enforcing the law on the ground of its alleged unconstitutionality and that it conflicts with the Volstead amendment and the Volstead enforcement act. It charges also that the law is void in that the state has no power to regulate the liquor traffic and no authority to levy taxes on intoxicating liquors at the time it was passed.

Option Has Been Obtained on Company's Holdings by Dairymen's Co-operative Association

New York, Dec. 3.—The Dairymen's League Co-operative association, incorporated, has obtained an option for the purchase of the holdings and properties of the Levy Dairy company, it was announced tonight.

The realty holdings involved in the transaction comprise a milk station and a pasteurizing plant in New York city, and 26 shipping stations owned and under leases in various parts of New York state and Pennsylvania. Capital to finance this deal will be raised by a campaign among the farmers, who have in the past been selling milk to the Levy Dairy company.

The country milk stations which the league will take over and operate, are located at Alder Creek, Bartlett, Brick Church, Canastota, Cloekville, Chittenango, Cedarville, East Steubenville, Ira, Jamesville, Little Falls, Middleville, Molra, Oneida Castle, Poolville, Rock Tavern, South Bay, State Bridge, Vernon, Sprakers, Winthrop, Truxton, Throop, Skinner's Edge, Pa., and Wyalusing, Pa.

Acquisition of the Levy Dairy company's holdings was said to be the first step toward pooling of the interests of members selling through the co-operative association. Charles A. Weinst, formerly president of Borden's Farm Products company, has been appointed manager of city distribution for the league.

WILSON IS ANXIOUS TO SPEAK IN HOUSE

President Is "Strongly Desirous" of Appearing in Person to Deliver Last Annual Message

Washington, Dec. 3.—(By the Associated Press).—President Wilson was represented today as being "strongly desirous" of appearing in person before congress next week to deliver what will be his last annual message to that body. He has not yet, however, made known his plans.

Both Secretary Tumulty and Rear Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, professed complete ignorance of Mr. Wilson's decision and it is not expected that he will make it known until just before congress is ready to receive the executive's message next Tuesday.

Those in close touch with the President have said that his health had improved so rapidly in the last few weeks that there was no doubt of his ability to go before congress if he desired to do so. Mr. Wilson ceased using his wheel chair more than a week ago, and it was said that he would be able to go to the capitol without the aid of either his wheel chair or a cane.

HOLD BUILDERS FOR CONTEMPT

Repeated Refusals to Answer Questions Pertaining to Supply Bureau Bring Indictments

FIX BAIL AT $1,000

Untermeyer, Tired by Excuses of Defendants, Threatens to Give Case to Grand Jury

New York, Dec. 3.—Abruptly halting his inquiry into the activities of the Builders' Supply bureau and the association of Dealers in Building Materials, the joint legislative committee investigating the building trust, today turned its evidence over to the extraordinary housing grand jury which returned indictments charging two officials of the bureau with contempt.

The indictments directed against John A. Philbrick, former chairman of the bureau, and Joseph Penny, secretary, resulted from the repeated refusal of the defendants to answer questions on the witness stand pertaining to the bureau's affairs. They were given their liberty on $1,000 bail each.

While the legislative committee was in session, the board of estimates was conducting its own inquiry into the $62,500,000 worth of city contracts, in another room in the city hall. Several contractors having school jobs, testified they had been parties to collusive bidding.

The committee quickly decided to discontinue its inquiry into the affairs of the building materials organizations, following testimony by its accountant and typewriter experts that the minutes produced by the two associations before the committee had been tampered with in substitution and interpolations made.

"We are sick and tired of this—books destroyed, people disappearing, minutes disappearing—most disgraceful," said Mr. Untermeyer, the committee's counsel in asking that the matter be given immediately to the grand jury.

IRREGULARITIES CLOG INQUIRY

"We have been endeavoring to investigate combinations and this among others. All sorts of irregularities are clogging our investigation, so that we cannot keep on with the main purpose of it and I suggest the whole subject be sent to the grand jury and let me go on with this investigation."

Martin Conboy, counsel for the bureau and association, protested against Mr. Untermeyer's request, which he characterized as a "contemptible threat," but was silenced by Senator Lockwood, the committee chairman. The committee then launched into the brick industry, the Contractors' Protective association and the alleged "towing monopoly" on the Hudson river.

Several brick manufacturers were heard, including W. K. Hammond of this city, and David Fowler of Haverstraw, New York. Both declared the brick makers were not guilty of collusion in price fixing. Mr. Hammond admitted the entire output of brick makers supplying the New York market was handled by three agents, but denied that they had anything to do with price fixing. Informal consultations between manufacturers had resulted in uniform prices, he explained.

Mr. Fowler, who is president of the Greater New York Brick company, said it had been formed to get "uniform selling prices." He said the brickmakers were afraid of the state Donnelly act, and did not discuss prices at their meetings in the Palatine hotel at Newburg in 1919.

Fowler started the committee when he testified that the Cornell Towing company has a monopoly on Hudson river towing and has raised its rates more than 500 per cent during the last few years. These "excessive towing charges," he said, were a great burden on the brick business.

The witness said his concern had attempted to compete with the Cornell company, but "we had to quit; could not keep going."

Corroborate Fowler's testimony. Mr. Fowler's testimony was corroborated by Frank Milton, a house wrecker, who declared the Cornell company had driven competitors out of the business by cutting rates, adding that the company charged $399 now for bringing a boat down the river that formerly was towed for from $15 to $75.

Testimony of the activities of the Contractors' Protective association, an organization of 47 excavators, sand, trucking and house wrecking contractors, was given by Thomas F. McLaughlin, secretary, who also produced the association's minutes.

The minutes read by the witness indicated that committees had been appointed by the association to fix prices on the hiring of motor trucks and for dirt and rock excavations. They also showed that rates for labor and equipment to be charged builders were fixed.

At Newport News a visit will be made to the shipyard where a number of naval craft, including three great battleships and two battle cruisers are under construction. Afterward a public reception will be held in the Academy of Music and it is expected the President-elect will make an address. The President-elect will leave Norfolk about 11 p. m. on a special train which will reach Bedford City early Sunday morning.

Mr. Harding and his party will leave Bedford City in time to reach Washington at noon Monday.

FAKE SOLDIERS FLEECE PUBLIC

Ruse Gets Promoter of Scheme $50,000 in Contributions Solicited for Crippled Service Men

New York, Dec. 3.—Fake magazines and civilians wearing army uniforms lured thousands of dollars from persons led to believe the contributions were for the benefit of crippled soldiers and sailors. It was alleged in a federal indictment returned today against William S. Brewer, the indictment charged him with using the mails to defraud.

Several New York banks contributed to Brewer's fund, raised in the name of his persona organization "The Ex-Servicemen's Co-operative League," said Federal Attorney Matlack.

Since the scheme began working, Brewer has deposited more than $50,000 in a New York bank. It was alleged, in the name of the woman book-keeper in his office.

Into the organization by refusing to furnish some shovel engineers. The minutes were put in evidence by the committee's counsel.

The first testimony that the minutes of the Builders' Supply bureau and the Association of Dealers and Masons Building Materials had been changed was given by Marvin Scudder, expert accountant for the committee. He said the minutes in various places—several months at a stretch—were written uniformly with a fresh ribbon and there was no doubt that they had been written at one time and substitutions made.

Miss Elizabeth O'Dea, a Bureau clerk upon whom Mr. Penny put the responsibility for keeping of the minutes, testified the minutes were kept regularly and had been placed in the book after each meeting as soon as they were prepared.

Trip From Hampton Roads Will Be Made Aboard the Battleship Florida, Which Sails Today

Washington, Dec. 3.—Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, left Washington today for South America, where as the representative of President Wilson, he will pay an official visit to the governments of Brazil and Uruguay and an official visit to Argentina.

Before his departure, on the presidential yacht Mayflower, for Hampton Roads on the first leg of his voyage, Mr. Colby met the Latin American diplomatic corps at the Pan American union who accompanied him to the navy yard, where he embarked.

At Old Point Comfort, Mr. Colby will transfer to the battleship Florida. While the secretary is at Hampton Roads, President-elect Harding will arrive there aboard the liner Pastores from Panama, but it is improbable that the secretary and Mr. Harding will meet, as the President-elect planned to go direct to Newport News.

In a farewell address to the secretary of state, Ambassador Mathieu of Chile, said Mr. Colby would "carry to the peoples and governments, before whom you will represent the eminent president of the United States, the eloquent expression of a policy which has opened new and broader horizons of peace, and, at the same time, strengthened our American continent those sentiments of mutual confidence and solidarity which the American people have inspired by reason of a moral elevation ever superior to their material greatness."

Suffolk County Farmers Plan to Pull Down Prices by Marketing Their Own Products

Riverhead, Dec. 3.—Farmers of Suffolk county expect to snuff out speculators and pull down food prices by marketing their products through co-operative storehouses; also have mapped out a five-year program to make rural life attractive to their sons and daughters.

Through the Suffolk County Farm bureau they expect to build structures to store the potato crops and other products and see that they are distributed evenly on the market. Then they believe they will be absolved of blame for the operations of speculators.

At a recent meeting where the program was drafted, the bureau directors recommended the appointment of practical farmers only to the directing board of the state school of applied agriculture.

WOULD LET VOTERS FILL BIG OFFICES

Selection of Candidates for Public Positions of Trust by Public Would Supplant Present System

Rochester, Dec. 3.—Decision to recommend to the legislature that the candidates for state offices filled by vote of the whole people, for United States senator and for supreme court justiceship, be nominated in party conventions composed of delegates elected by the party membership, was reached by the joint legislative conference here tonight, according to announcement made by Senator James L. Whitely, chairman.

The committee has concluded Senator Whitely said, that relatively only a small percentage of the voters of the state are familiar with the qualifications and records of candidates for state offices and that, in his mind and the committee's opinion, better candidates can be selected for such offices by a direct primary.

The committee has decided to embody in the bill it proposes to submit to the legislature provisions for judicial district conventions at which supreme court justices shall be nominated, but will recommend that the primary system be retained for all local and municipal nominations. The rank and file of the electorate is presumed to be reasonably familiar with the qualifications of candidates for local offices in the committee's view as expressed by Senator Whitely.

The committee will continue its executive session in the Powers hotel here tomorrow.

WRANGLE OVER FARM PROBLEM

Heated Exchanges Between Governor Harding of Federal Reserve Board and Congressmen

CITES PRICE SLUMP

Declines Are Due to Readjustment Following War, For Which Governor Had No Solution

Washington, Dec. 3.—The congressional joint committee hearing on the agricultural situation developed today into a dispute, at times quite heated, between Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, and members of congress.

"Mr. Chairman, what is the purpose of this hearing?" Governor Harding finally demanded, while being questioned by Representative Byrnes, Democrat, of South Carolina. "Is the federal reserve board on trial? Am I on trial here?" he continued, declaring he had been a target for "all kinds of abuse."

Representative Byrnes said he meant no reflection on Governor Harding.

Circulars issued by the regional reserve bank of Richmond, Va., to member banks and which Mr. Byrnes was attempting to show had resulted in rigid restriction of farmers' credits, were under discussion. Governor Harding said such circulars were not submitted to the board until printed, when they were looked over and attention of the issuing regional banks called to anything the board deemed unwise.

The board, he added, was not a central bank.

At one point Governor Harding told Representative Byrnes he "ought to read the federal reserve act and try to understand it. Mr. Byrnes replied that he did understand the act as he helped frame it. Governor Harding declared farmers need have no fear that the banks would not do their part and carry over loans on staple crops for which there is no market, provided the farmers would make a fair statement of their condition to the bankers. He cited figures which he said showed there had been no restriction on redcounts of agricultural paper.

Secretary Houston, who preceded Governor Harding, strongly opposed projects to revive the war finance corporation for the purpose of financing sales abroad of surplus farm products. Present price declines were due to readjustment following the war, he said, and he found no solution for the problem, although the treasury department had devoted more thought to it than to any other subject for the last two months.

In the course of his testimony, Governor Harding said diversion of the $70,000,000 profits of the federal reserve board for loans to cattle growers would be more effective than if applied to agriculture generally. He had been asked as to his opinion on the proposal of Senator Hitchcock for employment of these funds for relief.

The situation of the cattle growers, Governor Harding said, stood by itself and demanded relief. The suggestion of Senator Hitchcock, he continued, was outside the province of the board and a matter with which it was not concerned.

GENERAL PRAISES WRONG 'COLONEL'

French Hero Mistakes Colored Elevator Man for Moroccan Officer Who Served Under Him

"Ah, mon brave enfant; I did not think to meet you here. I would hardly have recognized you without your fez and baggy trousers of the war time. You fought valiantly for France."

But Jennings hastened his denial. "I've been faithful to this here elevator throttle clear through the war. General much as I wanted to get away from it. But they also serve who stand a' wait, I reckon."

Then General Nivelle, who had mistaken Jennings for a Moroccan colonel who fought under him at Verdun and won the Alsace line, recognized the confusion in faces and laughed more heartily than any one else in the party.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC FEATURES MARKET

Interest Continues to Center in Erratic Course Attending Dissemination of Company's Holdings

New York, Dec. 2.—Save for a pronounced contraction of business, both as to volume and variety of issues traded in, dealings in the stock market today differed in no important essentials from those of recent irregular sessions.

Interest continued to center in Southern Pacific, the erratic course of that issue suggesting an increasing divergence of opinion, in speculative circles at least, regarding the potential benefits to be derived from the company's plan of segregation.

General advices and developments of the day were conflicting in their relations to market use. Passing of the dividends on two of the low priced copper shares occasioned only mild disturbance in that group, having evidently been discounted.

Further curtailment of operations in many branches of industry, especially steel, rubber and textiles, merely confirmed recognized conditions of the past few months, as set forth by commercial and financial authorities.

Mexican oils and the better grade of rails, excepting Southern Pacific, which continued heavy, were the chief elements of strength and activity. Mexican Petroleum making a net gain of five points, and Reading almost two points. Shippings, motors and several of the equipments and food and leather specialties were under renewed pressure.

Money on call and time was quotably unchanged, but hopes of early ease were dashed by the statement of the secretary of the treasury pointing to the enormous demands of the government within the next few weeks. Trading in bond exchange was nominal and moderately reactionary.

Railroads and utility bonds were heavy, especially local tracings, and the Liberty group showed slight gains and losses, with no feature to international. Old United States 2s and 4s lost one half percent on call.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Agents Commenced Oneonta Business Men Upon Reports and Interest.

For two weeks ending with today two agents from the Utica office of the New York State Income Tax bureau, Messrs. Frank M. Dugan and Palmer W. Gio, have been engaged in the city in going over and inspecting the income tax reports made to the state by citizens of the city. The purpose of the visit has been not so much the detection of evasions, should any be found, as to instruct the taxpayers upon the proper manner in which to make out the reports and how to keep accounts to render making the report an easy task to perform. Many business men neglect to make an inventory, without which it is almost impossible to make out a correct report.

Mr. Dugan, speaking of their work in the city, said that they had found no attempt to evade the payment of a just levy upon income and that what errors had been corrected were made by error in understanding the law. He further added that about as many instances were found where a refund was due the taxpayer as where the taxpayer should pay an increased amount to the state. In fact, the combined sums of refunds about equal the total amount of increased revenue to be paid.

Commenting further upon their experiences in this city, Mr. Dugan said that "Oneonta has an exceedingly high class of business men, men who approached the task of making the return intelligently and with a willingness to pay in conformity with the provisions of the law. The manner in which all accepted our assistance and co-operated in efforts to instruct them made our work with and for them most agreeable."

The Utica office will send a representative here some time in March next to give advice when desired. He will doubtless have office at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Mr. Dugan said.

The more you compare it with other brands the more you will be convinced that Otsego coffee is the best. Ask those who have tried them all. You will find them using Otsego. 6c

Storage Battery Experience.

Dear Motorist:—Last spring a gentleman brought his battery to us which was the result of winter neglect. He had put his car up in December and had placed his battery behind the furnace in the cellar. The battery had discharged itself and sulphation and deterioration had been rapid. The result being a worthless battery. After we had explained why his battery had gone bad and why a battery should be stored at a good service station only, he said, "Now I see my mistake. I took Neighbor Brown's advice and it has cost me dearly. If I were a battery service station man, I would warn my patrons of the danger of not taking proper care of their batteries."

Friends, take this as your warning. profit by this gentleman's experience and have us take care of your battery this winter. Yours truly, Oneonta Battery & Tire company, 1 and 5 Hamilton avenue. Phone 559.

P. S. Next day, Neighbor Brown brought his battery in and ordered his new one. Talk is cheap but it takes money to buy batteries.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" and "Sootha Salva"
Finally Brought Relief

Dover, N. H.

"In 1906, I began to be troubled with Eczema. It started on my face and gradually spread. The second summer, I was so badly afflicted I had to lay off work. I would keep my hands tied up at night to prevent digging into my flesh while asleep. I spent hundreds of dollars in seeking relief. I would go for several months without trouble and then the Eczema would break out again and I would be in for a siege of suffering. My hands, especially across the knuckles, would be so puffed and swollen could not do any obstetrical work or operations.

It was about three months ago I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-tives' about a person being cured of Weeping Eczema by using this remedy and 'Sootha Salva'. I bought both and in about a week, noticed an improvement. I have now used two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and one of 'Sootha Salva' and am entirely free of Eczema. My flesh is clear and smooth and I am that gratified with the result that I cannot proclaim too loudly the merits of these remedies."

E. N. OLZENDAM, D. V. M.

Both remedies are sold at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. At all dealers or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES Limited, OGDENSBURG, N. Y.

Edward Hutchinson will offer to the theatregoers of this city his latest musical comedy success, "Not Tonight Josephine" at the Oneonta theatre for one night, Monday evening, Dec. 6. The chorus are young and comely and sing and dance, the numbers are bright and full of character, and will be sung and hummed long after the show has left the city, the costumes and scenery are all than one can ask for and the Lingerie number is sure to appeal to the ladies.

Once in Awhile Your Blood Clogs
and Your Vitality Runs Down

THEN TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

You'll Pick Up Again Quickly with Plenty of Red Blood
Corpuscles

Physicians nowadays take a blood test when you are run down. They count the red corpuscles in your blood. If there are too few they are sure you have poor blood. It is the time to take the well-known tonic, Pepto-Mangan.

Why? Because they know when your blood is weak your resistance to disease is low. Your vitality and energy quickly run down. You can tell when your blood is weak. You look pale, feel tired. You are not ill, but you don't feel right. You don't want to do things. That is the time to take the well-known tonic, Pepto-Mangan.

Pepto-Mangan builds red blood corpuscles. Physicians have prescribed it for thirty years. Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid and tablet form. The medicinal value is exactly the same. Take either and you are cured. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gode's." The full name, "Gode's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.

WHISPERS! WHISPERS!

Hissing through the corridors, — resounding through the rooms, — bringing terror to each one who heard them! And then, to cap the climax a baffling murder.

But there's a husky, two-faced man in it and a girl worth fighting for, — and in the end Right triumphs.

WHISPERS! WHISPERS!

The ever-popular Kerrigan is seen in a strong role, supported by a splendid cast which includes such sterling players as Fritz Brunette, Marjory Wilson, Myles McCarthy, Joseph J. LOCAL EDITORIAL NOTES.

An Educated Public.

It is worth mention—the notable fact that in the last few years, doubtless largely on account of the attention which health education has had in the press and through meetings and actual individual health work, the public has almost entirely outgrown that state of panic which formerly was felt when certain diseases, such as rabies, typhoid fever, small pox and diphtheria, manifested themselves in a community. It has been learned that they are no longer beyond cure, that there are certain immunizing and curative serums which taken in time and under proper conditions and directions can be relied upon with practical certainty. Thus far at least the public has been educated, so that there is no longer a panic as soon as a few cases develop.

This has been particularly noticeable in Oneonta during the past month. In that period there has been a considerable outbreak of diphtheria, but, so promptly, wisely and energetically have health board and officer met the emergency, there has been no public panic, and very little general concern. There were a few deaths, in cases, the nature of which was not at first recognized, as was natural at a time when colds are prevalent, but the condition was fully met, and there was no excitement either in city or vicinity. There was no disturbance of business conditions, and best of all, there was no emotional or sensational crisis of any sort. Instead, there was general confidence that the authorities could and would deal properly with the epidemic, that medical science was sufficient for the emergency, and that there was no cause for fear. The city may very properly congratulate itself on the outcome, and on the wonderful work of advanced medical science when properly directed.

The Important Thing.

However, in this time of local congratulation, the necessity of certain precautions should not be overlooked. It should be remembered that diphtheria, as any one of the other diseases earlier mentioned, is still just as terrible a disease and attended with just as great a percentage of fatalities as ever, where immediate attention is not given in its earlier stages. To be effectual the serum, or antitoxin, should be used at the earliest practicable moment. Unfortunately many cases of what apparently are mere colds are neglected even after sore throat develops, until the condition of the sufferer has become serious if not critical.

This should never happen. Any considerable cold should be looked upon with suspicion, and if accompanied by sore throat, should have immediate medical attention. The physician would then be able to diagnose the case, and if suspicious to have cultures made and their character determined. In the meantime, the case being a suspicious one, the sufferer would be secluded and danger of becoming a carrier of infection would be avoided. To look after suspicious cases, or even bad colds in the family, is therefore a duty owed not only to the patient himself but to the community at large.

COMMENDS GENEROUS GIVERS.

Literary Digest Sends Laudatory Note of Acknowledgment with Receipts.

In acknowledging recent remittances to the Child Feeding fund the treasurer of the Literary Digest sends the following commendatory note and suggestion which is passed on to contributors:

The People of Oneonta:
Your prompt contributions to the Child Feeding fund brought cheer to those in this office who have to do with this great work of Christ, and I want you to know how much your generosity is appreciated. We feel it a privilege to be of service in so great a work as conserving human life. When a man of great soul, such as Herbert Hoover, throws aside his own business to attend to God's business, we should all be glad to follow when all that we are required to give is money. May we ask you in the name of these millions of children to pass along to those with whom you are acquainted the importance of this work and the enormous task involved in raising 25 millions of dollars. A word from you may save many lives.
Sincerely,
R. J. Coddery,
Treasurer.

Dr. Latcher Slightly Improved.

Dr. Latcher suffered severe sprains while lifting a patient and the injury proved more serious than at first thought. It will probably be two or three weeks before he will be able to be out again.

ASSESSORS NOT REPRIMANDED

EQUALIZATION COMMITTEE SUBMITS REPORT NUMBER THREE AND ADDING COMMITTEE BRINGS IN SUPPLEMENT

Resolution of Supervisor Beardsley Laid on Table Indefinitely By Vote of 14 to 11.—Fix Amount of Bonds for County Officers—Adjourn Till Monday at Two O'clock.

Cooperstown, Dec. 3.—Alleged negligent assessors in some of the towns of the county, escaped a reprimand from the Board of Supervisors but such a narrow margin that they should take notice not to let this come to the attention of the Board again. Two committee reports were brought before the board for reading, the supplementary report of the adding committee and report number three of the equalization committee. The amounts of the bonds for the county officers were also presented in a resolution.

The first business brought before the Board was a resolution made by Mr. Beardsley a few days ago, calling for a reprimand by the Board in the form of a resolution, of what to some supervisors seemed a failure on the part of certain assessors to perform their duty in the manner prescribed by law. Considerable time was taken up discussing the motion, and amendments were offered. Mr. Hadsell moved that the resolution be laid on the table indefinitely. This motion was seconded by Mr. Friery. A roll call was demanded, resulting in the latter motion being carried. Ayes—Backus, Bilderbeck, Cross, Dickinson, Disbrow, Dutton, Ferguson, Fox, Friery, Hadsell, Haight, Hunt, L. McRorie, Taber; nays—Beardsley, Brown, Hall, Hand, Locke, R. C. McRorie, Nelson, F. M. Smith, R. J. Smith and Whipple. Total, 25 votes. Ayes 14, nays 11.

A resolution was introduced by F. N. Smith that the bonds for county officers be fixed at the following amounts: County treasurer, $100,000; county clerk, $5,000; district attorney, $5,000; sheriff, $5,000. The resolution as presented was adopted.

The committee on equalization having determined the actual valuation of each district of real property, except pension exemptions, presented the following table which shows the assessed value of real property, the full value of real property, the equalized value of real property, the assessed value of personal property, and the aggregate valuation of the several tax districts upon which the taxes for general county purposes other than highways, should be apportioned between the said tax districts.

The average county rate of assessment as determined by the percentages adopted is .83376181.

Popular After-Dinner Speaker.

Of Joseph A. Lawson, whom many in Oneonta will recall as one of the most delightful of after-dinner speakers, the Albany Evening Journal of Thursday says:
Members of the Fort Orange club who attend tonight's meeting will hear Joseph A. Lawson, Albany attorney and orator, speak on his experiences at various dinners which he has attended. The subject will be "Mr. Toastmaster." Mr. Lawson has attended in the last few years, more than 200 dinners, at which he has given after-dinner speeches. His talk tonight will include many of the witcidisms which have predated previous talks given by Mr. Lawson and will be in the nature of a resume of the speaker's banquet experiences.

DISCUSSES SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Bishop Berry Addresses Men's Club of First Methodist Church. Says Selfishness is the Root of Economic Evils and Must Be Displaced by Spirit of Brotherhood.

Education, advocated by some of the more fortunate perhaps, agitation urged by others who would adopt more forcible means and legislation favored by those who think laws are effective, all are powerless to remedy the evils that threaten our social and economic life, declared Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Philadelphia, addressing the Men's club of the First Methodist church last evening, in the course of his excellent address at the first meeting of the winter of the club. Eliminate selfishness by substituting a spirit of true brotherhood and many of the evils will be dissipated.

There was a large attendance that taxed the table capacity of the church parlors and the dinner served by the ladies was most appetizing and satisfying. The Elks' chorus was present and aided greatly in the promoting the spirit of good fellowship that prevailed during the dinner and the social hour that followed. Miss Annie Waters rendered delightfully a solo and she responded to the generous applause that greeted it with an encore number.

Opening his address after a pleasing introduction by President Fred N. Van Wick, Bishop Berry expressed his pleasure to be present and followed with some pleasant remarks that placed his audience in good humor for the more serious observations that followed.
After declaring that these are momentous days with grave problems persistently demanding solution he said that if mankind retains its inordinate selfishness dire results are to follow,
but if we can be aroused to a true sense of our obligations to our brother man and the generations that are coming along to make the world of tomorrow then peaceful settlements will be effected and society will reach an exalted plane of human progress.

The speaker made bold to declare that the same spirit of selfishness ac-tuates all classes and strata of society, the man with millions seeking more millions and the man with a dollar, equally zealous to get another, both being apparently willing to crush
one another if thereby he can himself be elevated. It is simply a question of whether we are to retain the old standard of getting and keeping or be willing to adopt the new and better aim and the higher level of living by giving ourselves to lives of service to others. Upon the attitude of the men of today toward these two standards depends greatly the future of our country, the speaker said in conclusion.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE.

Elmer E. Scatchard Acquires Half
Interest in Oneonta Bottling Works.

Announcement was made yesterday that Elmer E. Scatchard of Milford had acquired from Carl L. Shearer a half interest in the Oneonta Bottling works, located at 37 Market street and had taken possession. Mr.
Scatchard in an interview confirmed the truth of the rumor, and further stated that, while he expected largely to devote himself to the business of the company, he would retain his home at Milford, and his family would continue to reside there.

The bottling works, which were purchased two years ago by Mr.
Shearer, have won extended popularity for the excellent quality of the beverages which under the copyrighted and exclusive name of Klippanie Club, has been bottled by it. The manufacture and sale of these goods will be more vigorously pushed throughout this portion of the state. Only high class beverages will be sold, and it is the intention of the management to pay strictest attention to the purity of the product, its wholesomeness and its delicious quality as a beverage.

The firm announces that its plant will be much enlarged, and new equipment purchased, and the company in addition to its own products will conduct a large business as jobbers in a number of widely known and extensively advertised beverages.

Mr. Scatchard, as Oneontans do not need to be reminded, began his training as a drug clerk in this city and afterwards was proprietor of the City Drug store. Following his retirement after 15 years of successful management, he removed to Milford. His ability as a chemist and business man will unquestionably be a decided asset
to the company, and Oneonta itself, while regretting that he is not to make the city his home, will be gratified that his business interests are to center here.

ATTEMPTS BRIBERY

Anthony Molinari Tries to Buy Protection of Law for Liquor Business

PLACED BEHIND BARS

Is Arrested After Handling Chief Horton $25 and Will Be Arraigned This Morning Before Judge Huntington—
May Be Necessary to Postpone His Hearing at Binghamton This Afternoon.

Evidently believing that "every man has his price," Anthony Molinari, one of the proprietors of the cafe on South Main street, made an unsuccessful attempt to bribe Chief of Police Frank N. Horton last night and as a result spent the night in the city jail and will be arraigned before Judge Frank C. Huntington in city court this morning. Molinari, along with his brother, Carl and Peter Denigris, is scheduled to appear before United States Commissioner O'Neill in Binghamton this afternoon, on a charge of violating the Volstead act, but it is probable that this hearing will be postponed if it conflicts with the bribery case.

It will be recalled that "Tony" and his two pals were arrested early in October by Federal prohibition inspectors. Molinari, who visited their places of business and purchased beverages alleged to be intoxicating, believes that Tony was little worried by his arrest and intended to keep on in his illicit business. At any rate, he approached Chief of Police Horton a couple of weeks ago and attempted to buy the protection of the law, telling the chief that he would give him a specified sum if he (Chief Horton) would tip him off at any future time when federal inspectors planned to visit his place of business. Curious to know how far Molinari would carry his "stunt," Chief Horton arranged a conference with him in police headquarters last night.

At 8:30 p. m., Molinari came to headquarters and was closeted with the chief for half an hour. At the end of their talk, Molinari took a roll of bills out of his pocket and handed $25 to the chief. He was immediately placed under arrest on a charge of bribery by Patrolmen O'Dell and Walling (whose presence was unknown to Tony) and a more surprised man would be hard to find. City
Judge Huntington and Prosecuting Attorney Van Voort were soon on the scene and after questioning Molinari
for an hour and drawing up the necessary papers, in the meantime giving the prisoner an opportunity to talk over the telephone with his attorney, C. G. Tennant of Cooperstown, he was placed in the city jail for the night
and will be arraigned this morning.

As this offense is more serious than the liquor law violation it will have first preference, and it may be necessary to postpone the hearing at Binghamton until a later date. This probably will not interfere with Carl Mol-inari and Denigris appearing in Binghamton this afternoon.

Tony appeared quite put out when he was placed behind the bars and probably has learned the lesson that it doesn't pay to attempt to bribe officers of the law, in Oneonta at any rate.

An Old Oneonta Man Who Thinks.

In the old days, the evening music was the hooting of owls and the screaming of wild cats and panthers.
Now it is the victrola, pianos, concertos,
etc. Then, half a day and 20 miles for a doctor. Now step to the telephone and get him in ten minutes.
Then, fears that Indians would kill and scalp the kids and family. Now, police and patrolmen to protect them.
Then, build up a country and help
each other. Now, pull down all government, burn, kill and throw bombs.
In order to make the other fellow divvy up. In thinking of this change and also hearing the constant discontent and cursing of present times, the old man was worried, but when he thought how here in Oneonta, there were over three thousand little fellows who were working together to help each other, dividing all gains together, getting homes and farms together and making it possible for even the kids to place a measly $5 per month and having $1,600.00 handed back in 132 months, with which to go to college, start in business or get a farm or home and thus stop unrest, the old man cheered up, for he was thinking of the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association, which gives this chance.

ELKS' CHOIR WILL SING

Memorial Services Sunday Afternoon.
Promise to Be Beautiful and

Selections by the Elks' Male Choir, which might be well termed
"Oneonta's premier vocal organization," will be a pleasing feature of the annual Memorial services which will be conducted by the Oneonta lodge of Elks on Sunday afternoon at the Oneonta theatre. This choir, under the direction of James Keeton, Jr., which is composed of about 20 voices, harmoniously blended, are always heard with keen appreciation by Oneontans. The choir has been holding frequent rehearsals during the past few weeks and has selected eight sacred and classical numbers for the program Sunday.

As is customary, admission to the services Sunday, which will commence at 2 o'clock, will be by card only, each member of the lodge having two tickets to give his friends. Memorial Day is observed by every Elks' lodge throughout the length and breadth of the land, and the best speakers of the nation are in demand on these occasions. President-elect Warren G.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT.

Normal Girls to Play Walton Girls at Normal Gym This Evening.

There will be a basketball game at the Normal gym this evening at 8 o'clock, the Normal Girls, playing the Walton High school girls' team at this time. Not caring in the least about their defeat last evening, the Normal girls say it will be different the next time, and are going in the game tomorrow evening with the spirit of winning. This game should and will be well attended.

The schedule at the Normal school
for the season is now being made out and there promises to be a large number of good games at the Normal gym this season. This schedule will be announced later.

Bishop Berry to Preach.

Bishop J. F. Berry, D. D., of Philadelphia, who addressed the Men's club of the First Methodist church last evening, remains in the city over Sunday as the guest of Rev. Dr. and Mrs.
B. M. Johns and will occupy the pulpit of that church both morning and evening. Bishop Berry is considered one of the strongest preachers of the denomination and will doubtless be greeted by large congregations.

WILBER NATIONAL BANK

"SERVICE FOLLOWS SAFETY"

When a bank's business is so conducted that the safety of its depositors' funds is a first consideration, service follows safety almost invariably. A bank that has its depositors' interests sufficiently at heart to guard those interests zealously at all times, naturally has the disposition to extend to those depositors the greatest measure of service.

Forty-six years ago, when this bank was founded, the value of these truths was realized and the officers of the bank have not lost sight of them. Open an account in our Commercial or Interest Department.

STANFORD BUYS THE ONEONTA

ACQUIRES CITY'S LEADING HOTEL WHICH HE HAS BEEN CONDUCTING.

Will Make Oneonta His Home and Operating Center for His Chain of Hotels—Plans Numerous Improvements to Interior and Furnishings.

Announcement was made yesterday of the sale of the Oneonta hotel property to Harry M. Stanford, who has for some time conducted the hotel for Miller, Keyes & Keenan, Inc., the owners. The sale is understood to have involved some $200,000, making it one of the largest transfers in the history of the city.

Mr. Stanford plans numerous improvements. He will at once commence the installation of a new hot water heating plant of ample capacity to meet the needs of the hotel, the old having given considerable trouble of late. He also plans another summer to provide the building with a new heating plant that will assure uniform heat over the entire building. The hotel building, it will be recalled, was built by Herbert T. Jennings, who was interested in the trolley road and later in the First National bank and it has always been understood that his realty transactions were in a measure responsible for the financial difficulties in which he later found himself.

Mr. Stanford, who conducts also the Kingsborough hotel at Gloversville and the Pontiac at Oswego, has from the first expressed a fondness for Oneonta and his family also have desired to make this city their home. The purchase of the property assures it his personal attention and it is his plan to make Oneonta his headquarters and direct the operation of the three hotels from the Oneonta. It is also not unlikely that a little later he will bring his family here from Oswego to reside permanently.

Mr. Stanford plans a thorough renovation of the interior of the hotel. He has recently equipped some of the beds with ideal bed springs and it is his intention to supply them for all rooms and to redecorate the corridors and rooms.

The sale embraces all of the fixtures and furnishings within the hotel and adjoining cafeteria, the latter operated under a lease by Eugene Leigh Ward.

With the increased attention that Mr. Stanford will give the hotel, now that he is in full ownership, it will beyond question gain even greater popularity and be maintained in a manner to rank with the others of the chain he conducts and among the best in the state.

Leaving Soon for Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Gregory of Unadilla were in the city yesterday on business errands. They are arranging to leave Unadilla Monday next for Texas, where he has business interests and where they expect to spend the winter.

For our Saturday trade we have 100 bunches of fancy Milford celery, 15 gallons Blue Point oysters, lettuce, cranberries, squash and a nice line of fresh meat. Palmer's grocery. 11

FOR TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY

Pastors Urged to Speak in Favor of Christmas Seal Campaign from Their Pulpits Tomorrow.

Pastors of all churches in New York state have been asked to refer in their sermons tomorrow to the annual Christmas Seal campaign, which is being conducted all over the country during this month. "How the churches can help in the fight against tuberculosis" will be the principal subject. "Tuberculosis Sunday" is undenominational and non-sectarian, and all religious institutions in the country have been included in the appeal being made for cooperation in the seal campaign.

Many prominent clergymen about the state, realizing the fact that 150,000 men, women and children lose their lives annually from tuberculosis, and that in New York state last year there were 13,955 deaths from this disease, have offered their assistance to the county and city committees on tuberculosis and public health of the State Charities Aid association, who conduct the Christmas Seal sale in New York state each year.

Churches are not alone in their endorsement of the Christmas Seal campaign. Many organizations and individuals have voluntarily come forward and offered their help and verbal endorsement. Among prominent people who have endorsed the campaign are President Wilson, Governor Alfred Smith, Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the central committee of the American Red Cross; Herbert Hoover, Commander Evangelina Booth, of the Salvation Army, and Hugh S. Cummings, of the United States Public Health service.
